

Initiative Content

This tool can be used to document types of training or professional development activities as well as the content areas covered in these activities. The left hand column provides a choice of activities, while the right hand column provides a list of content areas.

This instrument will enable you to evaluate the content of your initiative. It is designed to assess the subject areas that the initiative covers as well as topics offered by trainers in a training series. This tool should be modified to reflect the specific content of your initiative.

This list is based on Connecticut's Charts-A-Course career development system competency areas, which reflect the field's consensus about the kinds of knowledge and skills early childhood educators need. We suggest that you substitute the activities and the content of the initiatives/programs you want to evaluate.
